ASSISTANCE IN RECOVERY

Improving lives together

12-month Recovery Assistance Program

Our 12-month Recovery Assistance Program (RAP) provides a structured safety net to keep people on the right path and offers a safety net for relapse, saving time, money and effort to get the individual back on track. The program builds pride in one's self, opens communication between the person and the family, provides a chance to voice concerns or celebrate victories, and truly changes the lives of everyone involved in this difficult process.

This 12 month program features:

- Individualized attention for both the person in recovery and the family
- An assigned counselor, or case manager, working with the client to stay on track
- Air: Assistance in Recovery managed random toxicology screenings
- Counseling and maintained contact with loved ones regarding progress
- Creation of accountability with reasonable expectations for the recovering individual

Continuing care is the key to lasting recovery. The program allows an individual to continue what treatment began, and make a lasting change to live a healthier, more complete life with recovery assistance.
